Reliability and Performance are not guaranteed

mymobilephone.com.au obtains information from third parties and cannot guarantee the reliability or performance of this information. In particular it advises that: (a) not all handsets will reproduce the text, ringtones or graphical images exactly as they are represented by any previews available on this website. (b) handsets must support short message services (SMS) in order to accept the information that is downloaded: (c) the information downloaded or otherwise obtained from this website or associated servers will operate only on a phone connected to the GSM network and may not work outside Australia: (d) information is delivered to handsets via third party telephone operators and therefore delivery can not be guaranteed.

Acknowledgement of Copyright

This document and the mymobilephone.com.au website and its contents are subject to copyright under the laws of Australia and by international treaty. By accessing the mymobilephone.com.au website you agree to comply with these laws. This means that you may not reproduce, copy, transmit, adapt or otherwise infringe the copyright in the whole or part of the mymobilephone.com.au website for any purpose otherwise than as allowed by this agreement or under the law.

Choice of Law

By accessing the mymobilephone.com.au website and its associated services, you accept that any disputes about this website or services offered the or the information contained on this website are to be determined by the law and courts of the Australian Capital Territory. All information transfers from the mymobilephone.com.au website and associated servers shall be deemed to have taken place within the Australian Capital Territory. The information provided on the mymobilephone.com.au website and associated servers is supplied in accordance with the laws of the Australian Capital Territory and the Commonwealth of Australia. If you access this site or associated servers from overseas, you do so on your own responsibility and you alone will be responsible for complying with the law where you are located.

Disclaimer

The information provided by mymobilephone.com.au comes via a third party. While mymobilephone.com.au will use its best endeavours to ensure that the information is correct at the time it is provided, we can not and do not represent, endorse or guarantee the accuracy or reliability of any of the information contained on, distributed by, or downloaded or accessed from this site. To the full extent permitted by law, mymobilephone.com.au and its officers, employees, agents and associates exclude all liability for any loss or damage (whether direct, indirect, special or consequential) which may be suffered or incurred from the use of, or reliance upon, the information contained on, distributed by, downloaded or accessed from this site or services accessed by associated servers or parties. In particular, we accept no liability for loss of business, personal distress, inconvenience or any other damage associated with or resulting from accessing or downloading the information on our website or our servers. Any warranty or condition that would otherwise be implied in this agreement is excluded to the full extent permitted by the law. Where statute implies any condition or warranty in relation to your use of the mymobilephone.com.au website and associated servers and services and that statute prohibits and exclusion or modification of that then, then that term is included in these conditions. However, the liability of mymobilephone.com.au is limited, at your option, to one of the following: (a) if the breach relates to goods: (i) the replacement of the goods or the supply of the relevant goods; (ii) the repair of the goods; (iii) the payment of the cost of replacing the goods or of acquiring equivalent goods; or (iv) the payment of the cost of having the goods repaired; (b) if the breach relates to services: (i) the supplying of the services again; or (ii) the payment of the cost of having those services supplied again.

privacy policy

Overview

mymobilephone.com.au is committed to protecting your privacy. However, in order to reduce the usage cost of our products and services and make them as effective as possible, we do need to collect and collate certain information and provide that information to advertisers. This policy statement outlines the conditions under which this information gathering process will take place. Except as required by law or necessity, mymobilephone.com.au will not sell, trade or otherwise disclose to third parties any personal information derived from the registration for or use of the website without the express consent of the person concerned.

Marketing Policy

mymobilephone.com.au may collect personal information as outlined below. This information may be used to market or promote new services and products that we believe may interest you. This marketing will be by way of an email or SMS for each product or service. We will never contact you directly. You may choose to remove yourself from our mailing list at any time by following the 'unsubscribe' link at the bottom of each relevant email or by sending an email to unsubscribe@mymobilephone.com.au or by contacting us directly at the following telephone number: 0410 622 272. We will never give you personal information (including your email address) to third parties.

IP Addresses

Our servers automatically record IP addresses along with which pages were visited within the mymobilephone.com.au site and which information is previewed. This information is important so that we can maintain and improve our website and locate problem areas within our servers. No personal details are recorded with this information. Information about total site usage is collected and aggregated and may be revealed to advertisers. However at no time will personal or individual information be made available to advertisers. Our servers may log the last site you visited before mymobilephone.com.au. This is done so that we can best determine how to promote our site. The information is recorded anonymously and will not be disclosed without your express permission. We reserve the right to record IP addresses and other user-identifying information in order to prevent improper or illegal conduct or conduct that otherwise violates this agreement.

Cookies

A cookie is a packet of information sent from our servers to your computer that may be returned to us on a subsequent visit. We use cookies to remind us of who you are, to allow us to tailor our site to suit your needs and to ensure that you receive the proper information from our databases while you visit our site. We may sometimes pass on the information gained from the use of cookies to advertisers. However, we will always ensure that such information is anonymous.

Staff and Contractors

mymobilephone.com.au requires all staff to sign non-disclosure agreements and to abide by the principles of this privacy policy. If contractors or other third parties are engaged to perform tasks on our behalf, we will ensure where possible that all information is provided anonymously. Where this is not feasible, we will require that contractors or other third parties sign non-disclosure documents or otherwise deal with any information gained in the course of their duties in a manner that is consistent with the principles of this privacy policy.

Registration and contests

Our registration procedure requires that you provide us with certain demographic and other information. We use this information to better customise the content of the site to suit your needs and interests. We may also share this information with advertisers, although only on an aggregate basis. The same principles apply to any information collected through online contests and surveys.

Security

mymobilephone.com.au has put in place security measures designed to ensure the security and integrity of all information under our control. We will use our best endeavours to ensure that these measures are kept up to date.
